COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Geometry of Healing (GOH) is an advanced-level Zero Balancing course that teaches students how to work directly with the vibratory/energetic fields of the body. We define fields and then learn how to access and evaluate vibratory fields, obtain information contained therein, and how to balance and clarify the designated field or material. We will explore the concept of free standing waves forms and learn how to access and balance them directly. You'll also learn how to work with slowed vibratory fields to access "the gap," an experience of stepping beyond time, space, and information — a field of pure potential. Much of the theoretical material presented is based on quantum physics, holograms, field theory, and how they can inform the world of touch.

You will learn:

- Theory of vibratory fields, their nature and behavior
- Accessing, evaluating and navigating fields through touch
- Use of touch to create openings or 'windows' into the field to amplify possibility
- Entering and experiencing the 'gap' within the field to access pure potential
- Compression of fields and their application in your sessions
- Obtaining information from within the field to inform your touch
- To recognize your own body signals as feedback to guide your work
- Teachings designed to deepen your basic ZB skills and facility with the ZB protocol

What Participants say about Geometry of Healing:

“This has been one of the most powerful, magical and scientific ZB classes I have taken. Principles of quantum physics and field theory that could potentially be hard to grasp gain power in that we can access them with our hands through the body.” Amanda King, LMT

“I have learned to find things in the body I overlooked or brushed off before. I have definitely fine-tuned my skills.” Sherry Raymond, MT

“We got the whole world in 4 days! Geometry of Healing has given me very clear specific avenues with which to deepen my momentary and overall understanding of structure, energy, how they interface and how to address difficulties. It adds new dimension to how I approach life and work within life.” Katharine Birdsall

“[Geometry of Healing helped] me be more grounded; get in and do the work and get out – with a quiet mind.” Sue Riggs, LPC
